WHEN in September, 1909 a young Englishman, Dr. Henry P. Armes, joined the staff of the University of Manitoba as a lecturer in chemistry, his colleagues unknowingly welcomed to their midst a man who was destined to become successively Head of the Department of Chemistry, Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science and President of the University.

On his arrival in Manitoba in 1909 he found the University consisting of a staff of about a dozen men and a single building, the old Science Building on Broadway.

He entered with such enthusiasm into the duties of his department and all the activities of the small University circle that he soon won the admiration and affection of his colleagues.

Dr. Armes served in World War I. At the battle of Passchendaele, he was severely wounded and as a result, was left with a serious physical disability for the rest of his life.

In spite of this handicap he returned to his duties at the University and his success as a teacher of chemistry and his good judgment in the work of University committees resulted in his promotion to an associate professorship in 1927.

In 1922 Dr. Armes married Clare S. Simpson, a daughter of the late Frank G. Simpson of Winnipeg.

His interest in military training led to his appointment as commanding officer of the C.O.T.C. in 1929.

Dr. Armes assumed the duties of Head of the Department of Chemistry following the retirement of Dr. Matthew A. Parker in 1927 and maintained the department in a high state of efficiency until his appointment as Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science in 1939.

In his new duties as Dean, Dr. Armes' abilities as an administrator were amply demonstrated by the wisdom and good judgment that he brought to bear on the many difficult and intricate problems arising out of the impact of World War II on the functions of the University.

On the resignation of Dr. Sidney E. Smith, Dr. Armes was appointed President of the University and carried the duties and responsibilities of this post with distinction for a year and a half until the appointment of President Trueman.

In order to retain the benefit of Dr. Armes' great experience in University administration, the special post, "Dean of the University" was created by the Board of Governors and in this capacity Dr. Armes continued to serve the University until his retirement in December, 1949. He was a regular attendant at the quarterly meetings in Ottawa of the advisory board of the National Research Council of Canada, to which he was appointed in 1947.

Dr. Armes' distinguished services to higher education were recognized by the University of Manitoba in 1947 and the University of Saskatchewan in 1949, both having conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws.

And now that he has passed away there will remain in the hearts of his colleagues and friends, and of his many former students, the memory of his gentle and kindly manner, his keen sense of humor and his competent and unflinching devotion to all that was in the interest of the University which he so faithfully served for over 40 years.

ADMINISTRATION

The President
Dr. A. H. S. Gillson

IT might be thought that there would be some difficulty in finding a message with a note of freshness and spontaneity for each succeeding graduating class of the University. Perhaps this was the case in those distant years before the war of 1914, but at the beginning of this new half century when history is in full flood there are many ideas which clamour for expression.

None of us can prophesy with certainty the events of the immediate future, but we are all fully aware that the world pattern being unfolded before our eyes is one which will affect every one of us in a dynamic way. No one can escape.

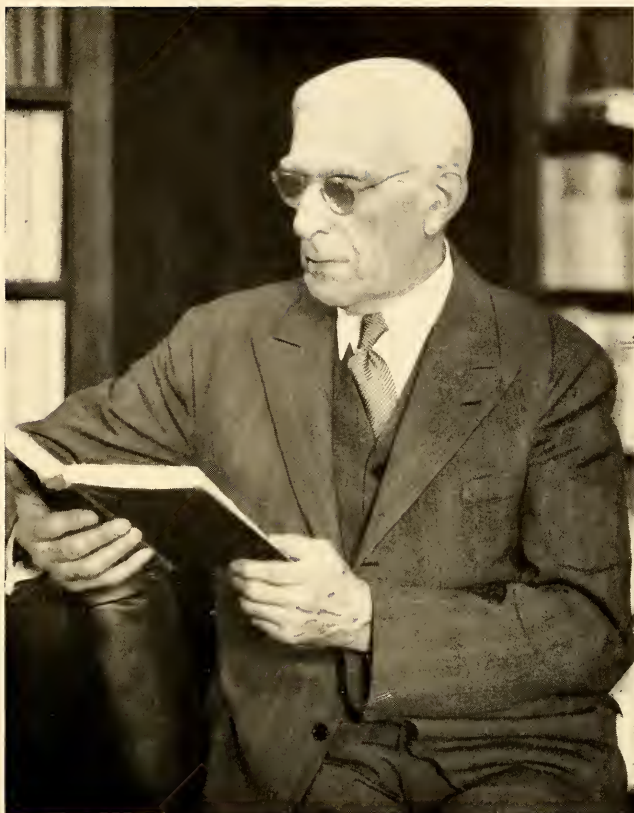

It is not by chance that in addition to the usual subjects of the curriculum other subjects are slowly being introduced. Slavic Studies, Modern Hebrew, Icelandic Language and Literature are now offered; Chinese probably will be soon offered in the Evening Institute. The Department of Government is changing its name to Political Science and International Affairs. Practical Art has been introduced and a new approach to the courses which lead to a General Degree in Arts and Science has been accepted by the Senate of the University. This all indicates that the University is aware of the flood tide in events and is endeavouring to provide leadership to our under-graduates and graduates alike, men and women who in turn must provide the strong leadership in all fields of endeavour which our country now so urgently needs.

I hope that you will remember your Alma Mater with deep affection, that you will often think of the unswerving loyalty of your teachers to the high ideals for which the University stands. I hope that you will be active in supporting your University, not by lip service, but by taking a strong and continuing interest in its policy and its development, so that your University will be able, because of the strength of your support and continuing interest, to give successfully and completely the leadership which only a University can offer.

In the name of the University I wish you a fruitful life packed with responsibility and backed by conviction and courage.

The Chancellor
Mr. Justice
A. K. Dysart

IN complying with your request for some message from me, I first desire to congratulate the student body on their enterprise in establishing the new and splendid quarters for their activities. The new Students' Union Building should enable the students, present and future, to develop fully in those things which lie outside the class-rooms.

At the same time, I venture to remind all students of the danger of devoting too much time to extra-curricula activities. The chief purpose of attending a University is to acquire those things which the University alone can give—the essentials of a broad, well-grounded education as a basis of future development. An academic degree is the certificate that such an education has been obtained. Every student, in his own interest, should give emphasis to that main purpose and subordinate to it all other interests and activities while he is in College. Many of the advantages derivable from these extra-curricula activities can be obtained after graduation practically as well as before and ought to be deferred until later, or kept within such bounds as will not interfere with success in studies. It is a matter of deep concern and regret that so many failures in examinations are traceable to the diverting of interests from the substance to the shadow, and many a promising student has ruined his prospects for life by such diversion. In all things of life the cardinal rule is to keep one's affairs in proper perspective: "With all thy getting, get understanding!"

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

IN the affairs of the University of Manitoba, the Board of Governors occupies a position similar to that occupied by the Board of Directors of an incorporated company. Its composition consists of twelve members, nine of whom are appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. Three members are elected by the graduates of the University. The Chancellor and President are members ex-officio. The chairman and vice-chairman, elected annually, and the secretary, who is the Comptroller of the University, comprise the officers of the Board.

The Board has two standing committees, but from time to time, specific questions merit the appointment of special committees, which report on them. One of the standing committees is the Finance Committee. It has the authority to deal finally with certain questions, and it makes recommendations to the Board regarding the finances of the University, and the buildings and properties it owns. The other is the Staff Committee, which, as the name implies, reviews questions pertaining to the appointment and retirement of members of the staff, and makes recommendations to the Board with respect thereto.

The University Act provides that no member of the Board of Governors shall, as such, receive any salary or emolument, and thus the services rendered by its members are voluntary. Board meetings take place regularly once each month, and at other times as is necessary. The Finance Committee meets twice each month, and the Staff Committee once monthly.

Questions affecting the staff, questions relating to the physical facilities which have been or may be provided for the use of students and staff of the University and the equipment which is required for the operation of the institution—all such issues engage the Board from month to month. The Board establishes all facilities, departments, chairs, lectureships, scholarships and prizes. The Senate directs the academic affairs of the University, but the Board is the governing body. The Board derives its powers from The University Act, which states that the Board shall have full power and authority to exercise in the name of and on behalf of the University and as the act and deed of the University any or all powers, authorities and privileges by that Act or any other Act conferred on the University.

Dr. J. H. Stewart Reid
Honorary President U.M.S.U.

Arthur V. Mauro

President U.M.S.U.

THE 32nd year of U.M.S.U.'s existence is drawing to a close. It has been an eventful one. Broadway ceased to exist and with its death the student body gained a degree of unity but lost an excellent meeting place.

The year has seen another step towards unification at Fort Garry. Our offices moved into the new Students' Building and U.M.S.U. meetings previously conducted in the Broadway Canteen were forced to make a "grand tour" of the University from Fort Garry to St. John's College.

With the movement to Fort Garry the whole question of downtown Colleges, fees, etc., demanded attention and your Council has set up a Commission to draft recommendations to be forwarded to the Board of Governors. Student enrollment began to level off after the astronomical figures of the immediate post war years.

The result was a decreased budget and the necessity of careful financing. If fees remain the same during the next few years there must be a careful planning of activities and a still more careful supervision of expenditures.

The students here at Manitoba have an enviable heritage in the degree of self-government permitted. At no time throughout the year has the administration interfered with any aspect of the student extra curricular field. In fact, the success of many of our plans was due to the whole hearted co-operation of the governing body. It is imperative that these good relations be continued and this demands sane and business-like conduct on the part of not only student leaders, but also the student body at large.

This year with its many accomplishments is a tribute to the University and the community at large. It is to the members of the council, to the administration, to our many kind friends in the community, that we of the student body extend our sincere and grateful thanks.

As your President it has been a constant honour and privilege to serve you and represent you—may your years at Manitoba be both successful and enjoyable and may they be but heralds of happier and more prosperous years to come.

EXECUTIVE REPORT

WITH the publication of this issue of the Brown and Gold another year in the history of the U.M.S.U. has slipped by.

In many ways this term of 1950-51 has been significant. In particular it has been significant insofar as we have seen the Junior and Senior Divisions consolidated on the Fort Garry Campus. The Law School has received new quarters in the Law Courts Building itself and there have been innumerable building improvements at Fort Garry.

The Spring Flood, which completely inundated the Fort Garry Campus, wrought havoc with many of the buildings and particularly with the gym floor of the new U.M.S.U. Building. A remarkable recovery took place and before classes were resumed in September most visible traces of the devastating damage had disappeared.

The U.M.S.U. Building itself is nearing completion and if all goes well the Student Union portion will be completed by October, 1951.

With United's fine new building under construction on the downtown site we may take it that, geographically at least, the University is as settled as it will ever be. Future Councils must continue to plan a program which takes all this into account.

Then, too, this year we were confronted with the expected drop in enrolment and the consequent reduction in the monies available for an overall student program. This necessitated a much closer scrutiny both by Finance Committee and Council on all matters affecting the financial status of the student union. This responsibility was shared by Sub-Committee Chairmen who worked prodigiously to remain within their budgets.

Gone, too, from Council were the last vestiges of the veteran element with their level-headed and more mature approach to the business of Student Government. In its place came a young and eager Council, not too experienced, but willing to learn. And learn they did, and well. For, with the financial situation as it was, Council and the sub-committees had to co-operate to the fullest. Council did its duty well and was a credit to the students whom it represented.

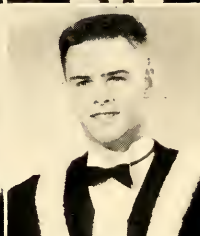

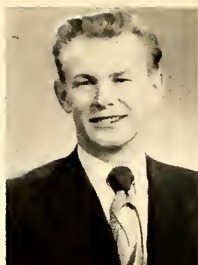

The Executive maintained its close contact with the University Administration through its fortnightly luncheons with President Gillson. The value of these meetings is inestimable both from the point of view of the administration and from the point of the Executive. They accomplished their purpose admirably.

This year saw full support given to the National Federation of Canadian University Students by Manitoba and, both financially and in actual participation, Manitoba upheld its obligations.

Near the end of the year Council set up a special committee which will delve into the whole of such matters as the proposed revision of fees, the goals for future U.M.S.U. Councils and the real purpose and general aims of the U.M.S.U. itself. These, along with the proposed Student Loan service, and University Honor Society, are matters still pending final approval but in the interim they are being fully considered.

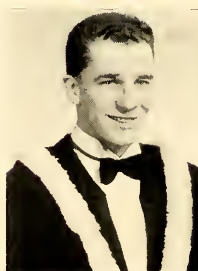

Many thanks from the Executive go to all Council Members, Sub-Committee Chairmen and especially to the students themselves, with whom no event would have been successful, for an interesting, prosperous and memorable year.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

At the present time there is every indication that the U.M.S.U. will end its 1950-51 year in a satisfactory financial position. With the severe decrease in U.M.S.U. funds brought about by a decrease in enrollment, this, in every aspect, has been a test year for the U.M.S.U. to maintain its diversified program. Our financial success cannot be attributed to any one person, but was achieved by the complete co-operation of each sub-committee.

The policy laid down by the Finance Committee to affect the greatest utilization of our available resources and, at the same time, to keep a wary eye to the future so that no precedent would be set which may jeopardize next year's program when even smaller student enrollment may be realized. To impliment this policy, the co-operation of each sub-committee was necessary and was graciously obtained. In many instances, it was necessary to cut down the budgets of various sub-committees and, as a result, many people felt that a subsequent impairment in their program would follow. In the final analysis this was proven incorrect, and in many cases, sub-committees exceeded our expectation.

BUILDING COMMITTEE

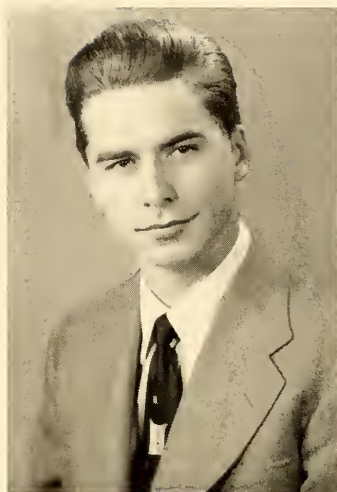

THE one big item on this committee's program this year was the letting, in February, of a contract for the completion of the student union building and athletic centre.

Architects' plans call for completion of the second gymnasium, and the addition of the union wing which will contain two floors of offices, a lounge, locker rooms, and a cafeteria.

The west gymnasium will be suitably equipped to make all types of individual athletic participation possible. In addition, the gym floor will be available for dances and similar types of socials.

The completion of the gymnasium and the addition of the students' wing will cost an estimated $285,000.00 and is due to be finished by December 15, 1951.

The committee is greatly to be commended for a piece of work that for years will stand as a testimonial to the courage, vision and ability of the present generation.

EXTERNAL AFFAIRS

THE External Affairs Committee, in its first complete year as a permanent sub-committee, expanded its activities to include co-operation with the Debating Union in the McGoun Cup debates.

N.F.C.U.S.

Manitoba delegates to the 14th Annual Conference of the National Federation of Canadian University Students were Art Mauro, U.M.S.U. President, and Western Vice-President of N.F.C.U.S., Arden Haynes, U.M.S.U. Treasurer, and Frank Muldoon, Chairman of External Affairs. A great honor was bestowed on Manitoba in the election of Art Mauro as National President of the Federation.

Our delegation undertook to revise and translate into French the popular booklet on student travel, "So You're Going to Europe . . ."

A National Students' Week was staged, in conjunction with the Mid-Winter Carnival, to increase student awareness of N.F.C.U.S. Bal Siew, N.S.W. Chairman, was aided by Mike Dafoe and Gladys Shenner.

PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEES

aker interviewed the Winnipeg Electric Company and the Provincial Government in an attempt to obtain improved transportation facilities. The result was more frequent bus service, especially to and from the downtown section.

Insurance for students while on campus and participating in U.M.S.U. sponsored athletics will be an established fact in 1951-52.

THE co-operative efforts of our various committees have been of great value in the creation and maintenance of good relationships between the students and the public as well as among the students themselves.

Although the flood prevented the publication of the "Bison", its work was effected by the distribution on the campus of the "U.M.S.U. and You" brochures. To Abe Yanovsky and his crew goes much credit.

In the absence of a Radio Chairman, Peter Mundie, Business Manager for Public Relations, has furthered the way towards the establishment of a radio station on the campus.

In addition to the usual sale of pins, crests, and pennants, Student Relations succeeded this year in effecting the sale of rings through official channels. Bob Jackson and his crew are responsible for this achievement.

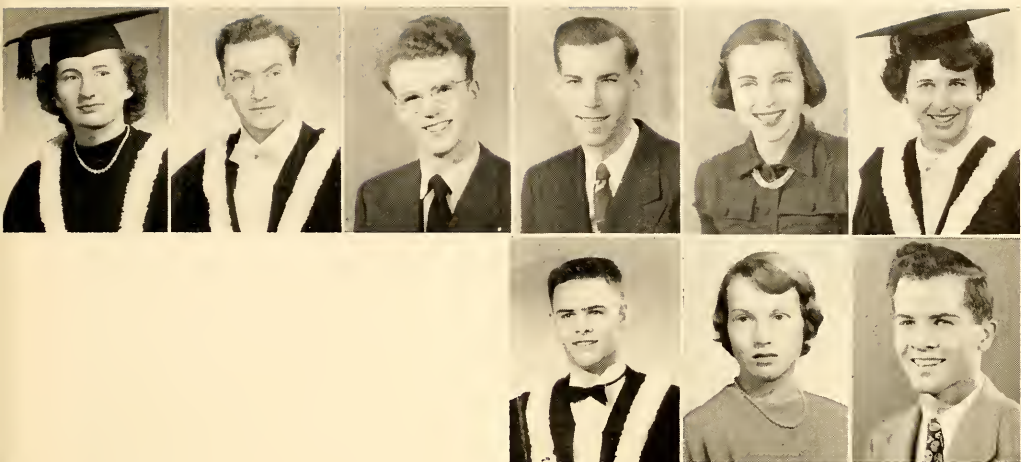

Forming a Transport Action Committee, Frank Muldoon, Ross Francis, and Cy Whit-

Students owe the effective organization of Carnival Week chiefly to the efforts of Public Relations, the Athletic Directorate combined with those of the faculties of Interior Decoration, Architecture and Fine Arts.

To our cheerful cheerleaders goes much appreciation for their excellent performance at University functions. This committee was in the capable hands of Mary Bodnarchuk. The girls added life and sparkle to every program in which they took part.

Rytza Finkelstein, Chairman of Publicity, economically whilized all possible means for the advertisement of University affairs. Visiting basketball teams from the U.S. were also royally entertained by Rytza and her committee.

To all who have worked so hard on our committees, we say "thank you" for your time, your effort and your enthusiasm in putting U.M.S.U. before the public and the students themselves.

President

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

AUDREY MAHON, president of the University of Manitoba Women's Association and the elected Council of Representatives from each faculty who worked with her, are to be congratulated in realization of the highly successful women's activities which they organized and co-ordinated on the campus this year.

Sponsoring was undertaken by Audrey Vineberg and Pat Fortin. It was their task to provide every Freshman girl with a "sponsor"—a girl from Second Year who "knew the ropes" of University life and who would guide the Freshette during her first few bewildering weeks at college.

The Freshie Reception, under the direction of Joyce Parkinson, was held in the Residence Auditorium at Fort Garry on Sept. 30 and was attended by an enthusiastic crowd of 300 girls. During the course of the reception, any girl interested in sub-committee work was given the opportunity to submit her name. However, the highlight of the afternoon was a Fashion Show which featured ideal year-round college styles. Pat Coughlin and Clare Kennedy are to be commended for their fine work in planning the show.

Another W.A. activity, the well-known annual Co-Ed Ball, this year dubbed "The Chopstick Hop," was held at the Winnipeg Auditorium on Nov. 18th. "The Hop" proved to be a great success with a capacity crowd filling the large auditorium. Kay Clark and her hard-working committee, along with Joyce Parkinson, deserve lauds for their efforts.

Publicity for W.A. activities was well handled by Lynn Abel, who worked with the U.M.S.U. Public Relation Publicity Director. Ushers for University presentations, convocation and such were provided through the W.A. by Rose Marie Platzter, Margot Chapman and Elinor Shaw, Chairmen of W.A.'s Ushering Committee.

A very important Committee of the W.A. is Social Welfare because it is concerned with voluntarily serving the community in various practical ways. This year Clare Kennedy, Chairman of Social Welfare, worked very enthusiastically in supplying group workers for the Y.W.C.A. and Deer Lodge and Grace Hospitals. She also provided girls for the Central Volunteer Bureau in emergencies where car transportation was necessary.

The Co-Ed Banquet, held at the Residence Auditorium on March 5, marked the culmination of W.A.'s great year. Highlights of the banquet were the presentations of athletic awards and the introduction of the incoming W.A. President along with her Council of the newly elected Lady Sticks of each Faculty.

BOARD OF MUSIC

THE past year has been an extremely active one for the Board of Music, as well as one fraught with frustrations. The trials and tribulations of having no Broadway Building in which to hold practices, the difficulties in securing other places in which to hold practices, and finally the trekking from place to place to practice, were overcome by the various musical groups and outstanding artistic programmes, in every organization, were the final result.

This year, as last, the Choral Society and Symphony consolidated to present a doubly enjoyable Choral-Orchestral Concert, featuring Gary Harman and Roy Firth as guest artists.

The Musical Programme's Committee had a quieter-than-usual, but successful, year. The Varsity Dance Band was more or less unheeded in the planning of U.M.S.U. social functions, but the Varsity Brass Band, resplendent in its new ties, performed admirably at Freshie Week, Varsity Varieties, and at innumerable basketball games. The Board of Music feels that the Brass Band does a lot to "lift" student spirit.

Tops in popular appeal was the Glee Club's production of Friml's "Rose Marie". This melodic and colorful musical show amazed and delighted five capacity house audiences. Budget figures also amazed and delighted the U.M.S.U. in various ways.

Sincere thanks to all members on the Board of Music Committees who did such a fine job in spite of the many unprecedented difficulties which came up this year. Many thanks especially to the 250 members of the Board of Music to whom the greatest part of the credit must go for a truly successful year.

FRESHMAN COMMITTEE

THIS year the Freshman Committee got around the problem of presenting a "bigger and better" Freshie Week by using a royalty theme and shaking some new tricks out of their sleeves.

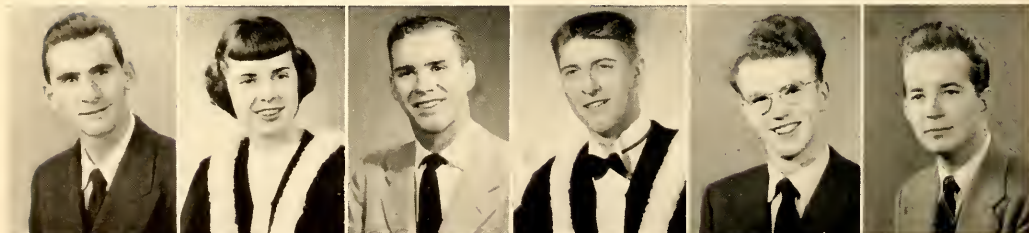

A service and reception was held for the Freshmen on Sunday, Oct. 1, at Broadway Baptist Church. Rev. E. Checkland in his address, "Can You Do It?" stressed the need of a well-rounded education.

Monday, Norval Brown and Bob Gardiner emceed a monster pep rally for the downtown faculties. This rally was repeated to an overflowing auditorium at Fort Garry on Tuesday. Wednesday, Blue Bombers' Tom Casey referred a riotous wrestling match between King Kong Katie from St. Mary's and Gorgeous Georgina from Home Ec. Casey lost (his shirt). A relay race of tri-cycles, bicycles and horses was staged on Thursday and St. Paul's captured the newly-created "Thundermug". One feature of the Pow-wow the same night was the burning of the bannisters of "Ye Olde C.O.T.C. Building."

Friday, the final frenzied day, saw the Cornucopia of Agriculture take first prize in the Parade Float contest. The culminating climax of the week was the crowning of Ruth Thorvaldson of Arts as Freshie Queen at the Civic Auditorium on Friday night.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

THE Social Committee swung into its program for the 1950-51 social season with "Autumn Serenade", a moderately successful dance, held at the Civic Auditorium on November 3.

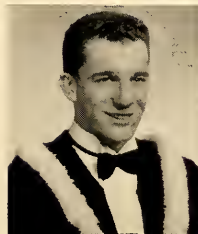

For the "Paradise Prom," annual colossus of the year dances, both the Crystal Ballroom and the Oak Room of the Royal Alexandra Hotel were used. It was not a great success, perhaps because it was decided that it should be formal for the coeds.

The Civic Auditorium on February 9 became the scene of the invigorated "Varsity Varieties". Featured were four faculty skits of professional calibre, plus individual acts and routines. Convened by Wilson Barbour, and emceed by Barry McCorquodale and Des McCalmont, the show was greeted with exceptional enthusiasm.

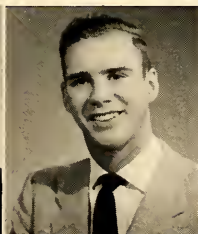

"Color Night", the final big social event, took place in the main dining room of the Royal Alexandra on March 9. Offices of the U.M.S.U. were exchanged and the work of Committees and individuals was recognized. Dancing followed in the Crystal Ballroom and the curtain fell for the social year.

DEBATING UNION

THE continued success manifested by our Debating Union was due largely to the excellent work done by the members of this sub-committee. In the McGoun Cup competition, so efficiently handled by Manly Israels, our four debaters established a most enviable record in winning unanimous decisions on both sides of the debate, thereby regaining the McGoun Cup for Manitoba. The Winnipeg debaters, Margaret Mann and Sha Sabzali, spoke to an audience of approximately 550 people. The receipts were $145.00! Chas. Smith and Cliff Matthews won the National Finals in Ottawa with only one vote scored against them.

In the inter-faculty sphere approximately 80 debates were conducted. The attendances were good and ran as high as 250. The Fort Garry Division, chaired by Al Molaro, conducted semi-weekly debates with eminent success. These noon hour debates were each judged by at least one faculty member and this resulted in a marked increase in debating proficiency.

The student interest in debating, which this year reached a record high, was furthered by the excellent publicity in the Manitoban, arrangements for which were made by Martin Kleiman.

Extensions, under Lorne Reznowski, despite strict financial limitations, was able to arrange a debate with Grand Forks and two debates before Winnipeg High Schools. All in all, this year has seen an unprecedented improvement in the calibre of debates and student interest in debating.

STAGE SOCIETY

THIS year has left us with the firm belief that the society must be completely re-organized. The organization of the major production is all right and as soon as more reasonable facilities for its presentation are established, this venture will prove a success from the box office angle as well as the artistic. It is in an attempt to reach the new students and develop latent talent that the society fails to work. The experiment with student directed and produced shows has failed. The only solution is to go back to the Inter Faculty Festival and see what can be done with reducing costs of this venture. Unless some medium of developing acting material is found there will be no actors for a major production. We can only hope that next year's committee is more successful in solving this problem than we were.

The Chairman of this committee hopes that this year's program as far as it went was an entertaining one from the spectator's point of view and an instructive one from the actors. Thanks to all those who worked so hard to make things as successful as they were.

House Committees

WOMEN'S AND MISS GOVAN

MEN'S AND DEAN WEBSTER

W O M E N ' S H O U S E

THIS year the Women's House Committee was blessed with a new Dean, Miss Govan. Our Assistant Dean, Miss Weber, is back with us again this year.

The first social event of the year was The Freshie Dance. Two of the Freshie Queen candidates who lived in Residence were in attendance. The House Committees acted as hosts and hostesses.

Next was the Freshie Reception and it terminated with the traditional Snake Dance led by the Dean.

The Hallowe'en Dance, one of the best parties of the year, was attended by everything from cats to bunny rabbits but the prizes were awarded to a group of Indian girls and a Scotchman.

For the first time in years, the day of the Christmas Tea arrived minus snow flurries.

The guests were entertained in a very festive atmosphere, thanks to the Decorating Committee.

A new event for a new year was the Barn Dance. It was such a success that it is thought it will become an annual event.

The Valentine formal, with its romantic atmosphere of soft lights, was an even greater success than in previous years.

Many thanks to the Committees in charge of these events and to the Sunday Night Program Committee.

Because of the disastrous flood, fall sports were at a minimum but they began again in full swing in '51.

Due to the co-operation between the Deans, House Committee and the Residence students and the interest shown by Dr. Gillson, the 1950-51 session for Residence was a success.

M E N ' S R E S I D E N C E

THE House Committee strove to maintain peace and order but this can only be done by the co-operation of the resident students. Some questions which are still probably in the minds of the House Committee members are—Who are the fire cracker fiends?—Who are the fellows who have all night bridge sessions? President Gillson has been very co-operative this year in bringing our Residence back into shape after the spring flood. In our monthly meetings with the President, the members of the House Committee, who are the representatives of the students, were able to present their complaints, grievances and suggestions direct to the President who did his utmost under the circumstances to meet the students' needs.

The Social Committee arranged dances either on the Friday or Saturday, almost every week. When there were no dances, a movie was shown. The Sunday night Social Committee arranged a series of very good and interesting shows for the season. The attendance was remarkable at these shows.

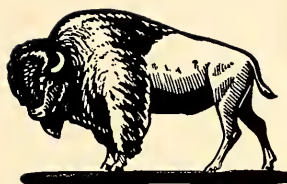

A great number of the students participated in various sports. This activity was delayed until the gyms were remodelled and repaired. Basketball, volleyball, hockey, curling, badminton and ping pong were among the activities.

The memory of Hallowe'en night will long be held by Residence students—although their $5.00 will be lost.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange

Service

» » TO WESTERN AGRICULTURE

The reputation of prairie wheat has become so firmly established in the markets of the world that Canadians are prone to take for granted the extraordinary development of this great industry.

Actually, only 72 years have passed since the first trial shipment of grain was loaded on a Red River barge for export through the United States. Two major factors combined to ensure rapid transition from this humble beginning to the proud position now held in the markets of the world: namely, the construction of Canada's transportation system, and the establishment of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange in 1887.

In keeping with the facilities it has provided down through the years for all concerned in the buying, selling, and shipping of grain, the Grain Exchange proudly stands within a stone's throw of the historic site referred to above, ready for continued service to Western Agriculture.

*Dean, Faculty of Agriculture

YOU HAVE reached the end of a four year programme of lectures, labs, games, books, friendships, seminars, midnight debates, essays, notes, troublesome budgets and exams. Some of you will go on for post-graduate work, others will say farewell to labs, essays and examinations. I would be disappointed if anyone felt inclined to separate himself from the books and the eternal search for truth. And I know that the friendships of University days will be warm and lovely and lasting. Those associations will grow in attractiveness. It is a reasonable guess that the day will come when you will point to certain celebrated scientists, one or more members of Parliament, a few reeves of municipalities, some well-known educationists and some conspicuous leaders in rural Canada and say with pride: "I was at The University of Manitoba with those chaps."

You are fortunate fellows. See that your good fortune sharpens your sense of social and moral responsibility. I hope that in the name of your Faculty you will always be bold for justice and tolerance and honesty.

HE SEEDS AN ACRE IN 8 MINUTES

With the aid of modern machines, Canadian farmers have overcome their shortage of help, and have stepped up their earnings, through increased production per man. In the event of possible all-out war, modern machine-farming will safeguard Canada's food supply, in spite of further diversion of manpower.

Director of School of Architecture and Fine Arts

Architecture and Interior Design seeks to develop men and women as individuals who will contribute creatively to society at a time when many strong forces would appear to be opposing any deviations from set patterns. It is our aim not to stifle individuality by seeking to establish uniformity. At the same time we recognize the importance of responsibility as well as freedom in professions like Architecture and Interior Design, in which the discipline of training must include the instructive, corrective, orderly and guidative.

"The discipline of Architecture . . . demands all of a man's mind, to comprehend and assimilate; all of a man's skill and ability to practise; all of a man's spirit, honorably to account for its stewardship. It demands integrity, industry, intelligence, imagination, initiative. It demands courage, perseverance, sacrifice and constant striving."

(G. B. Cummings, F.A.I.A.)

As future members of the professions of Architecture and Interior Design, it is important that you realize and accept your social responsibility; that you recognize your education as a continuing process, and that you give ever of your very best professional service. Remember that wherever we as individuals live and practise our professions, we are those professions.

Wonderful progress during the first half of the twentieth century has led to great achievements in both Architecture and Interior Design. This is your immediate heritage. The rest of the century is yours in which to accept the responsibility of building securely on this foundation. Felicitas vobiscum!

IT IS A GREAT privilege each year to have the opportunity of extending, through the medium of the Brown and Gold, a word of congratulation and best wishes to the members of the graduating classes in Architecture and Interior Design. When I wrote a similar message last year to the mid-century class, it was without any knowledge of the unusual circumstances to be introduced by the Red River flood, which gave that class its first opportunity to demonstrate its individual abilities to cope with untoward difficulties and to acquit itself admirably.

The best of educational programmes seeks to prepare men for social responsibility, and will concern itself with ends as well as means, with value as well as technique. The School of Architecture through its curricula in

Arts Activities

ARTS ACHIEVEMENTS for 1950-51 took the spotlight on the campus in several instances. Heading the fine faculty were two capable students, Senior Stick Alan Philp and Lady Stick Mary Elizabeth "Babs" Masterman.

A beautiful Arts freshie, Ruth Thorvaldson, became queen of the campus during Freshman Week and made us an extremely proud faculty. In the parade, the Arts' float placed second in the trophy competition. So we made a satisfactory mark from the beginning of the session.

As usual, Arts students held important positions on U.M.S.U. sub-committees. Hard working Manitoban masthead members included Ross Francis, associate editor; Joe Gelmon, managing editor; John Dafoe, editorial advisor; Izzy Asper and Ron Slater, news editors; "Babs" Masterman and Gerry Bull, features editors; Marion Rose and Fran Bachynski, literary editors; and Michael Dafoe, of the editorial board. Editor of Creative Campus was Moishe Black. Another energetic Artsman, Lionel Orlikow, edited the 1950-51 edition of the Brown and Gold. A talented Artswoman, Betty Wilcox, acted as Glee Club chairman. Famous politician, Frank Muldoon was External Affairs chairman and also prime minister of the student parliament session. Freshman Week was handled by Ron Morlock and Lauder Mozell.

Arts debaters, taking part in the inter-faculty competition for the Dingwall trophy, had a successful year. Many more students, than in recent years, participated in the debates; and they all maintained the high level of technique and preparation which has become a tradition in the Arts faculty. Michael Dafoe, as Arts chairman, deserves much credit for his vitality in this activity.

President of Men's Athletics, Scott Wright, reported a successful sports year. The season started off with the entry of a ten-man team tabloid track and field meet. The Arts team placed an easy sixth out of the eleven faculties entered. The six man rugby team tied for second place in a tough division and although the two soccer teams didn't win all their games, they didn't lose all of them either! Two basketball and three volleyball teams were entered in the inter-faculty competition and the teams displayed top athletic qualities.

This winter, inter-Arts mixed curling was introduced for the first time and was well enjoyed by eighteen men and eighteen women who entered this league. In addition, three men's and one women's rink participated in inter-faculty curling.

Al Sarchuk (track and field), Sid Green (six-man rugby), Ken Chittick (soccer), Don McKay (basketball) and Lauder Mozell (hockey) were energetic convenors in their respective sports.

In women's athletics, chairman Joanne Shaw accounted for an outstanding year. Freshie queen, Ruth Thorvaldson, tied for first place in the golfing competition. In point standing, Arts stood second in tennis, golf, track and high point aggregate. Margaret Dolhoun, volleyball convenor, did a particularly good job. Four of the four teams entered were in the playoffs.

Social activities of the year were smoothly guided by Helen Purchase. The first event was the freshie reception held on October 2 at the Marlborough Hotel where freshies and seniors joined in fun at a banquet and dance. A most successful Skit Social took place early in November and was sponsored by the Arts girls council. It has been acclaimed "the greatest, most hilarious hen party yet!" A February Awards party substituted for the usual Christmas party. It was a gay affair held in the Arts building. Election results were announced and Arts athletic awards were made, not to mention the social activities. Climaxing the years events was the Arts Grads Farewell, at the Fort Garry Hotel, March 6. It successfully marked the culmination of the '51 graduates study and pleasures at the University of Manitoba.

A quick glance back shows the Arts faculty in a favorable light during 1950-51. It encourages one to say "Carry on, Arts!"

Your future is our business

Today

The underlying responsibility of a great University is the preparation of its undergraduates today . . . for the opportunities of the future.

The Great-West Life, Canada's third largest insurance company, has many graduates of the University of Manitoba among its Head Office staff. These graduates are finding challenging opportunities for public service careers in a progressive and expanding company.

MY COLLEAGUES and I would be the last people in the world to suggest that there is any undue similarity between a manufacturing process and the progress through the University course to graduation in Commerce. I think, though, that we might be permitted analogies drawn from our own work and terminology, although we would be most unhappy if other people were to use them.

In this sense, then, I would say that we are very pleased with the "quality control" that we have achieved in this class of 1951. The raw material was excellent. It reacted very favorably to processing stresses and has stood up well. In our opinion, and we should not be too prejudiced, it meets all standards of past performance. Another strong and promising class has been added to the group of graduates who are doing so well in business, in the civil service, in the professions which they have entered after an undergraduate preparation in Commerce, and in public service as good citizens.

In our short tradition, the graduates in Commerce have remained very close to their University and to their friends who are on its staff. We hope that this continues and that we progress together in experience and achievement.

Commerce Activities

IN our classes, in our social events, and in our sports activities we had a good year in 1950-51. "Toby" Miller proved to be one of the best of Commerce's Senior Sticks, although he ruled his Council meetings with a firm hand.

We started the year off socially with a Freshie Reception which combined a weiner roast off campus with a dance in the Residence Aud. Freshmen and Freshettes alike reported that they thoroughly enjoyed their introduction to the rest of the Commerce student body.

The Men's Stag was an event of November. At this affair, Commerce students again upheld their reputation for holding one of the best Stags on campus. This was verified by the number of absentees the following morning.

For the girls, the two main events were their Fall and Spring Teas. The Fall Tea, otherwise known as the Girls' Stag, was in honor of the Freshettes, while the Spring Tea was in honor of both faculty wives and 1951 graduates.

Of course the big event of the season was the Grad's Farewell, which was held at the Fort Garry in March. The 1951 Class assured themselves that it was "the best yet".

Under the direction of Tom Moore, Faculty Athletic President, Commerce men participated fully in inter-faculty events, as shown by their placing first in the inter-mural point standing at Christmas. In golf had the low four for the inter-mural championship. In soccer, our Senior team made the finals, and our Junior team made the semi-finals. Outstanding Commerce athletes were Ralph Masecar, in soccer, Jerry Janzen in basketball, and Ken Little, our star athlete. Norm Elsey held up his end as "the old man of the team."

EDUCATION

Dean of Faculty of Education

THE recently occupied Education Building is not pretentious as are many of the stately edifices on the campus but it can be said of the Second Diploma Class to take over the spirit of the year has been in accordance with independence of effort in an atmosphere of belonging. of staff and students in a common cause have been characteristic of this year together.

Classified advertising has been called "the people's advertising". Although all advertising performs a public service, classified advertising performs it more directly and more immediately for more people than any other kind.

It is significant, therefore, that the Winnipeg Free Press should have such a large and continuing leadership in classified advertising. It is a tribute to the superior ability of the Free Press to produce results quickly, directly and economically. It is one more reason why all advertisers for over 50 consecutive years have made the Winnipeg Free Press their first medium in this rich Manitoba market.

ENGINEERING

makes steady progress

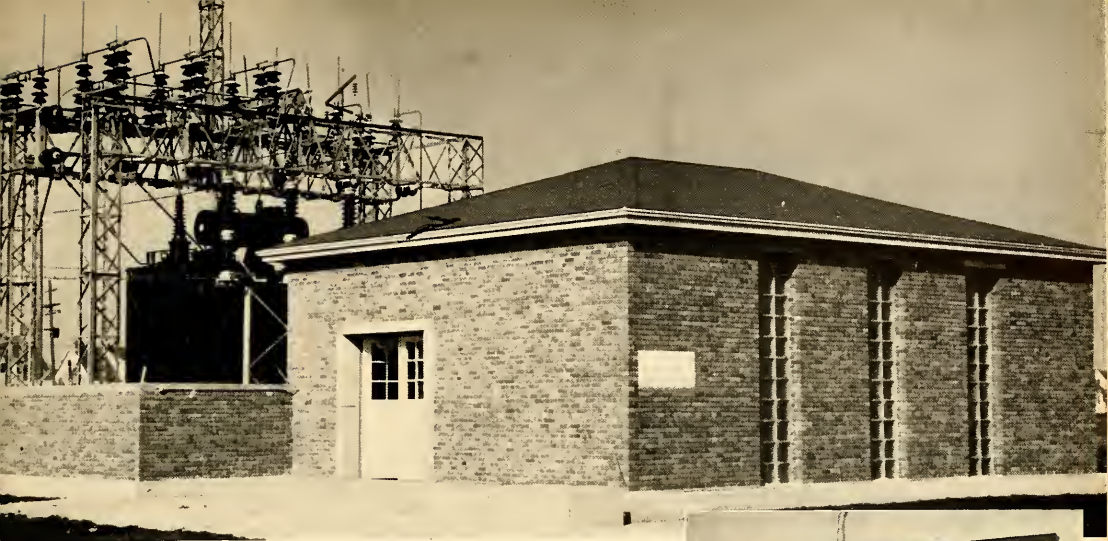

To keep pace with the electrical needs of the people of Winnipeg, City Hydro has embarked on a program of expansion which will greatly increase its facilities.

The Slave Falls power plant on the Winnipeg River reached its maximum capacity of 96,000 horsepower in 1948. Another 53,000 horsepower will be added by means of two new steam turbo-generators in an extension to the Steam Plant on Amy Street—one rated 15,000 kilowatts, the other 25,000 kilowatts. This work is now in progress and the 15,000 kilowatt unit is expected to be in operation by the end of this year.

Recently, four new substations have been put into service, in areas which have built up since the war years, thereby extending and improving City Hydro's electric distribution facilities.

Many other new and replacement projects are also in progress, all designed to maintain City Hydro's record for reliability and efficiency, and to provide the citizens of Winnipeg with an adequate supply of low-cost power for all their requirements.

Success in any job may be broken down into three main elements, all easy to remember and worth doing so. The first of these is your interest in and desire to work at the job; the second, your ability to do the job; and third, your capacity for getting along with the people with whom you work. These are the specifications, and major importance is attached to the last of them as so much today is accomplished by team work rather than by the individual acting alone.

Your professional life should take cognizance of your public responsibilities as a citizen. Not only will you work with others of your profession as one of a team, but you will have social responsibilities which you should accept and discharge faithfully as a citizen in a representative democracy. In its "Faith of the Engineer", the Engineers' Council for Professional Development proclaims that:

"When needed, my skill and knowledge shall be given without reservation for the public good. From special capacity springs the obligation to use it well in the service of humanity; and I accept the challenge that this implies."

"To my fellows I pledge, in the same full measure I ask of them, integrity and fair dealing, tolerance and respect, and devotion to the standards and the dignity of our profession; with the consciousness, always, that our special expertness carries with it the obligation to serve humanity with complete sincerity."

May each of you always strive to live up to these ideals.

AS EACH of you crosses the threshold of your university course, outward bound on your chosen career with its great and unknown potentialities, may I wish you every happiness and success. By happiness, I mean personal satisfaction with your work and homelife, and a feeling of harmony with people and the world in which you live so that life may be easier and be a pleasure. By success, I mean whatever you may consider your goal—advancement in your chosen profession, health, security, as well as the affection, good-will and respect of other people; for you will find that health, character, understanding of people, good judgment, initiative and courtesy are personal qualities which promote professional success just as much as do technical ability and training.

Grace Gordon Hood

B.Sc., M.A., Ph.D.

*Director, School of

MAY I EXTEND to you congratulations on three counts. First, on nearing your goal in the preparation for further advancement in your chosen profession. Secondly, for your patience and forbearance during the construction period in the new Home Economics Building; and finally, for your good fortune in being able to spend at least one year in our new home. Your predecessors, who have been back to see it, have expressed regret that such was not their good fortune.

Still, may I remind you that space and equipment is not the only thing needed to promote your advancement; you may not always find the best and latest to use in your future fields of endeavor. Important qualities, which we hope we have helped you to develop, such as earnestness of purpose, initiative, adaptability, and willingness to experiment in a new situation will help you to succeed even though the last word in equipment may not be available.

To insure continued success or advancement as a homemaker or a professional home economist, the above attributes must be added to efforts such as, keeping abreast of new knowledge of subject matter in order to augment, or correct, what you already have learned; and perfecting old, as well as learning new, skills.

May the future for each of you be a bright one.

LAW

G. P. R. Tallin

K.C., B.A., LL.B.

Dean of Law School

JUST WHAT the ideal dean should say to the average graduate, I have been trying for six years to discover. My search has proved as fruitless as the search for the elusive "ratio decidendi". Perhaps it is because I am certainly not the ideal dean, and you are, of course, not merely the average graduate. I will not attempt to advise. For what advice could I without impertinence give, that has not already been given by more capable counsellors.

May I, however, remind you while you are still on the threshold of your chosen field of study that there perhaps more than in any other field Pope's words should be heeded:

"A little learning is a dangerous thing
Drink deep or taste not the Pierian spring

There shallow draughts intoxicate the brain
And drinking largely sobers us again."

I congratulate you, to whom the term "graduate" may prove to be appropriate, that you have achieved an intermediate goal, have acquired at least a minimum of equipment for the pursuit of what further aims you may have set for yourselves.

I congratulate you, too, that you are beginning your service in times when the need for men of wisdom, courage, integrity and learning has never been greater. I hope and believe that you will acquit yourselves with honour and distinction. Your happiness and success must depend in large measure on your own efforts, yet none the less I wish you Goodbye not merely in the conventional but in the real sense of the word.

bring to bear all the sympathy and humanity at your command. In this new phase of your medical life we wish you success and the kind of satisfaction which can only result from hard work and critical study. NURSING EDUCATION

Margaret E. Hart

R.N., E.Sc., M.A.

Director, School of Nursing Education

THIS YEAR has emphasized the threats to the peace of the world and the constructive efforts which are at work. As nurses you are expected to fit into the place where you may make your most effective contribution in the service of mankind. You are a part of the constant planning which is even more essential in time of serious emergency. We have watched your growing understanding of your chosen field of Teaching or Public Health Nursing. How urgent are the needs in each of these fields!

You came to us with your goals partially set and with a realization of the community's need for your services. We hope these goals will be clearer and the way easier because of this year of study. Your Work will always be a constructive force—the preparation of students to help maintain the ranks, the promotion of individual and community health, and your own contribution to the development of the profession of nursing itself.

We wish you joy and satisfaction in all you find to do.

NURSING is one of the service professions, and therefore carries the privilege and responsibility of helping others to attain their goals of living to the fullest extent of their capacities.

I trust that your experience in the School of Nursing Education have enabled you to determine and to clarify your own place in our service to mankind, and so to have prepared yourself that as you return to your chosen field of nursing, you will be better able to guide and to help the individuals and the families with whom you work. In so doing you may gain that greater measure of happiness for yourself that comes through helping others.

Dorothy M. Dick

Instructor in Public Health Nursing

Words for Public Health Nurses

EACH one of us, the day we graduated, stood starry-eyed at the hub of our professional wheel. The spokes of opportunity stretched about us; on, on to disappear at the horizon. We were eager to set out along the path we had chosen. Each on her own quest—but each ever-seeking, ever-striving to serve humanity better.

The months, and for some of us the years, passed and with their passing came the more certain knowledge that to serve better we must learn and experience more.

Once again we stand. This time at the outer circumference and we scanned the spokes and saw them all converging. Converging towards the hub—University.

Thus we entered these walls of learning. The days have been too short for us to acquire all the knowledge we seek or to have all the experiences that will be invaluable to us later. However, we have been thoroughly grounded in our respective fields and each of us feels that the past University year has greatly broadened her outlook.

As once again we face the horizon we know that we have a far greater store of knowledge to call upon as we enrich our experiences in serving mankind's ills.

Craftsmanship

will always play a highly important part in the making of printing plate because their finished quality depends, entirely, upon the skill of the individual engraver combined with the mechanical perfection of modern production methods. From the comparative simplicity of one-colour line or halftone engravings to the intricate details involved in process and other fine multicolour printing plates, RGB endeavours to bring to every job a level of workmanship in keeping with its highest traditions. It is this striving for quality, this constant endeavour to maintain the highest in craftsmanship, that has contributed largely toward making the Company indeed the largest makers of printing plates in Canada.

THE SUCCESSFUL completion of the prescribed courses of study severs your formal connection with the University as students. You will graduate into the ranks of its alumni and into an ancient and honourable profession. It will be your responsibility to maintain the traditions of these institutions.

Your training will have taught you that science is the search for Truth. That is a never-ending quest. It opens up new horizons because its outlook is always forward.

For each of you the many hours of lecture demonstration and laboratory practice cannot have failed to leave impressions which will remain with you through life. It is our hope that those impressions will guide you in that search for Truth and direct you in paths of high endeavour.

Killarney. A "specialty" featured by Howey's Rexall Drugs. Finds it necessary to restore her vitality by frequent nourishment during lectures. Favorite expression—"Fra-a-ank".

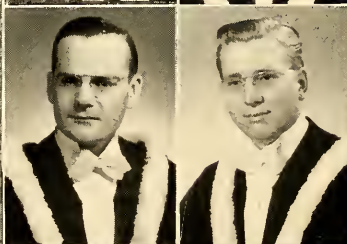

Gerald Black

Winnipeg. "Gerry" the little gem, a friend of all. The oratorical "PARSON" is regrettedly leaving us at such a time of worldly chaos. Favorite expression "Why do you haunt me like you do—I'll never get through".

Al Burtnick

Winnipeg. If effort and ideals mean anything, Al will go a long way. He is the only student in Pharmacy who has been able to afford a steno to type all his notes—and assignments.

Winnipeg. Ray startled lecturers and students by attending classes two days in succession. He is an ardent "Kipling" Fan—how do you "Kipple" Mitch?

Ernie Nelko

Winnipeg. He is always willing to discuss that bridge hand he had a month or so ago. Hard working lad who as a rule burns a lot of "midnight oil"—if anyone can look worse in the early morning, we have yet to see him.

Charles Rubenstein

Winnipeg. Thinks passing a powder derby is sufficient qualifications for a pharmacist. Like golf — African style that is.

William Serdinski

Winnipeg. Usually seen dipping his nose into a coffee cup with his bosom pal Wes. The only member of the class who plunged into the Powder Derby and Wrapping Marathon in less than one hour and managed to come out victorious.

Irwin Shwartz

Yorkton. Symptoms—Worrying and studying, a high temperature during exams. Antidotes—Good marks, which produce only a temporary sedative action and Irv is soon found "haunting the library" again.

Jim Skuce

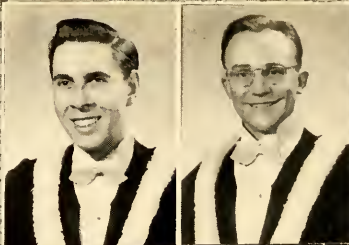

Winnipeg. Known to the class as "Pop". Loves to play snooker with someone he can beat. Quite a beeper, too. Hard working student with a quiet personality; has a place in everyone's friendship. Hobby: curling and snooker.

John J. Zarowski

Winnipeg. Brown and Gold representative. Admits being interested in curling, bowling, figures (not accounting). Gets great enjoyment on "passing" after Sam's "two no trump" bid.

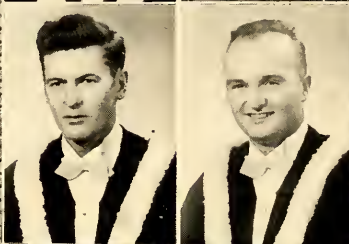

Ed Zulkowski

Winnipeg. Our handsome baritone, should be a rugby hero, but confines himself to such sissy sports as bowling, volleyball, etc. Is "actively immune" to most feminine admirers.

Norm Singleton

Winnipeg. Holds the record for time spent nattering in the "ipacious" Common Room. Favorite Remark—"Won't my wife be pleased to see me spending her money this way."

George Smith

Winnipeg. A nice boy, repeat boy. Filled with all the enthusiasm of youth. Still very much married. Works when there is nothing better to do.

A Message from the Honorary President

WE HEAR a great deal these days about the University and its place in the Community. One important thing to remember is that to many people with whom you will come in contact, you represent the University. They will judge its value to the community by your actions, your conversation, and by your achievements. Attendance at a University is still a privilege made possible by the support of many who have not been so fortunate. Like every privilege, it entails a corresponding measure of responsibility and it is up to you to justify the confidence placed in you by everyone in your community.

The members of the staff offer our warmest congratulations to the members of the class upon the event of their graduation and wish them every success in the careers that lie before them.

Science Activities

SCIENCE, the largest faculty on the U. of M. campus, has had a very successful year in every phase of extra-curricular activities. The Science Students' Council, sparked by the enthusiasm that our capable Senior Stick Bob Robertson imparted to each member, has functioned to the best of its ability to make this year rich and eventful. This was not done without the efforts of our Lady Stick, Priscilla Rayner, who has been all that a Lady Stick should be plus more, as well as the work of Doug Ackland, President of Men's Athletics and Maurice Young, Social Chairman.

Our male athletes, maintaining the athletic standards of last year when they won the Intramural Trophy, chalked up their first victory in the Tabloid Track and Field Meet. Our six-man rugby team, however, didn't fare so well, losing out to the Meds on an "off day."

A good turn-out was seen in soccer with Science producing four teams in which the two Senior teams reached the finals of their respective leagues.

An outstanding hockey team, convened by Sam Juravsky, showed many thrilling games, as well as Science's basketball teams who also made a very favourable showing. There were more laughs than wins in the volleyball league but everyone had lots of fun. Our swimming team was again outstanding as well as our ski team with Ken Wallace again upholding Science's honors. Another winter sport, curling, again held a successful year. All credit for this years showing in Athletics goes to Doug Ackland and his hard-working convenors.

In Girls' Athletics a good participation was also shown. Track and field, volleyball and basketball were all favorite sports of Science girls. Curling was also a well supported activity, and a good calibre of playing and sportsmanship was shown in all Science sports, except perhaps hockey, enough said. A good year was had by all thanks to the work done by our Girls' Athletic Chairman, Lya Johanson.

The Social activities of the faculty were highlighted by the Freshie Banquet and Dance, and the Grads Farewell. Our 190 freshmen attending the Banquet were welcomed by Prof. Leach, Hon. Pres. of Science and Shirley Thorkelson, our Freshie Queen candidate, was introduced to the admiring throng. Science Grads were wine and dined at the Fort Garry Hotel at the expense of the Science Students' Association.

The Science stag was reinstated and proved a great success while our Ladies' Club retaliated by holding a Hen Party to initiate the freshettes and a Grads Luncheon in the spring. Something new was added this year in the form of a formal dance at a downtown hotel. However, the informal parties held in our spacious Men's Common Room proved just as great a success.

Yea, we've had a grand year together, and now we'll say farewell to our graduating students and wish them all success in the years to come.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

© HUNTER

C. E. Smith

M.A., B.Sc., D.Paed., F.B.Ps.S.

Director of School of Social Work

AS YOU LEAVE the University behind you, you will enter a world which shows many signs of needing desperately the kind of services your training has fitted you to give. The forces which are mobilized against man's self-determination are subtle and universal. In working to combat them you will need not only skill and knowledge, but patience, understanding, and a willingness to give freely of yourself. There are no glittering awards to be won. Your reward will be that in learning to know more of life you will yourself more fully live.

The faculty of the School of Social Work salute you who are about to live. We wish you every success and happiness in your chosen career.

Francis S. May

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Served four and a half years in R.C.A.F., much of it as a P.O.W. in Germany. Discharged in 1945 with the rank of F/O. Class Pres., and occasional benefactor of all those with transportation difficulties. Takes a keen interest in sports, particularly curling. Hopes eventually to take his M.S.W. Degree.

Margaret D. Caplette

Winnipeg. B.Sc. H.Ec., 1950. Holds the long green in utter contempt, having served in the Pay and Accounts section, R.C.A.F. Entered University in 1946; received Home Economics Degree in 1950. Expresses great interest in modern art, period architecture and stray kittens. Marg's post B.S.W. plans are indefinite.

Elizabeth S. Fidler

Selkirk, Man. B.A., Manitoba, 1950. Our witty and sophisticated B. & G. Rep., who is also Vice-Chairman of the F.G.C.C. A proud descendant of the old Red River blue blood. A frustrated pre-mediator whose interest in medicine has been renewed in another manner. Is doing her placement at the Family Bureau.

Margaret E. Goodman

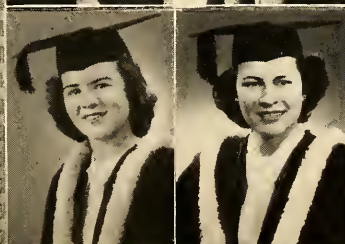

Wellwood, Man. B.A., Brandon College, 1949. Marg's deep dark past reveals at least one Isbister Scholarship, four medals (not war), a deep driving thirst for supplementary reading and an avid interest in the S.C.M. Reputed to know all the males in Commerce.

Geraldine M. Hamilton

Winnipeg. B.A., 1949, St. Mary's. An engaging manner and a lovely soprano voice combine to make Gerry a popular and busy young woman. She is domestically inclined—cooks, sews her own chic berets and hats and arranges flowers. Says she intends to become a Psychiatric Social Worker.

Claire M. Lillington

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, U. of M. Claire is the first woman Pres. of the Board of Music. Has been a member of the Glee Club and Choral Society for the last four years, and has held numerous official positions. Her talents are not entirely musical; lately she has acquired a "discriminating medical student."

Gloria Atnikov

Winnipeg. B.A., Manitoba, 1950. Group Work Placement at the "Y". Active in Iota Alpha Pi Sorority in her University years. Social Chairman, 1947-48. Vice-Pres., 1948-49; Pres., 1949-50. Gloria's burning ambition in life is to build groups; uncertain as to whether this includes matrimony or more Social Work.

Marion Ruth Clark

(B.A.) Brandon College, 1947. Weyburn, Sask. Interested in Psychiatrists, Neurotics and dependent personalities. Classes herself as the outdoor type and says she looks divine in jodpurs. Interested in "damp" parties and can usually be found arguing with Mo Schwartz. Will return to Sask. after grad. and practice Psychiatric Social Work.

Margot D. Good

Regina, Sask. B.A., "U" of Sask., 1950. Has been active in all activities on the U. of S. Campus and her enthusiasm has been very welcome in the School of Social Work. Is doing her placement at the C.A.S. after which Margot hopes to return to Regina. Medicine and Social Work urge her to stay in Winnipeg.

Margaret S. Hall

Winnipeg. B.A., United College, 1950. A warm smile and even temperament characterize this svelte blonde. Margaret is doing her placement at the Family Bureau. A trip to Europe this summer gave her a late start, but she managed to acquire good friends and good marks.

Margaret A. Killick

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Group worker at the Y.W.C.A. who also finds time to lead a Girl Guide Group. Took two courses in group work at the University of Wisconsin this summer, and is avidly interested in anything concerned with Social Work. President of Alpha Phi Sorority, 1949-50.

Florence M. Lyon

Brandon, Man. B.A., Brandon College. Poised and sophisticated, she surprises all when they find that she is an excellent square dance caller. With her contagious laugh and brisk, efficient manner this gal should go far in any branch of Social Work which she may choose after graduation.

Marion Muchnik

Winnipeg. B.A., 1947, U. of M. Usually the centre of all riotous groups, Marion is a fine "Social type". Spent three years in gaining worldly experience at various jobs. Is doing her placement at the C.A.S. and hopes to work with "little people" after graduation. Future includes either a M.S.W. or M.A.S.

Adeline Penner (Mrs.)

(B.A.) 1949, U. of M., Winnipeg. The only married gal in the class and therefore the envy of all spinsters. Besides having a husband this girl also sports a car of ancient vintage. The latter is the cause of much frustration on Addie's part and is the only thing which ruffles her calm disposition. A Group Worker of no mean note.

Morris Schwartz

(B.A.) Winnipeg. "Mo" usually wanders around in a comatose condition muttering "problems" that he must straighten out. One of them is that he is the only male at the Family Bureau and the brunt of all attack. Preference for either blondes or brunettes. He is a constant talker with a sly, witty sense of humor.

Adelynn M. Sneizek

Winnipeg. B.A., St. Mary's. Mind and wit always in top form. Taking her B.A. she divided her vivacious brunette self between St. Paul's and St. Mary's; myriad extra curricular activities. This girl is a colorful addition to the Protection Dept. of the C.A.S.

Samuel Stern

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Handsome, dashing, ladies' man. Prefers his women 5'9" and over. A cheerful package, with a repertoire of rebald jokes and a masterful Judo hold. Same is doing his placement at the C.A.S., where he's keeping his feminine co-workers on the straight and narrow.

Shirley A. Urssel

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Social Work's starry athlete and Faculty Athletic Rep. Well qualified for this position with her background of Varsity basketball, volleyball and hockey. Her experience in working with children at the C.A.S. and pleasing personality should qualify her admirably for a career of domesticity.

Helen Olasker

(B.A.) U. of M., 1950. Winnipeg. A lock of blue-eyed innocence belies a clever brain and a quick wit. Plans for the future are indefinite but she shows a great affinity for Post-Graduate Artsmen and trucks. Our guess is that her future will include both.

Theresa A. Prowse

Bengough, Sask. B.A., 1948, U. of Sask. Worked with the Dept. of Social Welfare in Regina and some fatal attraction is carrying her back after graduation. Blue-eyed innocence belies a fiendish sense of humor in this case. Active in curling and basketball.

Mary Jane Shortill

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Divides her time between the Choral Society and the Glee Club. As Co-social Rep. this year "M.J." is forever using her group work tactics on the class. Plans for the future include travel and the consolidation of group work with the teaching profession.

Shirley B. Spigelman

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, U. of M. Best party thrower and most popular girl in Social Work. Family have been known to leave town, giving Shirley sole possession of the car and a large house. Member of Iota Alpha Sorority. May be quoted as saying that her future includes a career only.

J. Victor Thompson

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, U. of M. A member of the Choral Society for five years and this year is Pres. Also, by popular demand, Co-social Rep. for Social Work. A former telegraphist in the Navy, Vic is still operating. Has his eye on foreign fields after graduation.

D. Roy Wilson

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Happily married to an English lass. A veteran, Roy still has faith in his fellow men—enters Social Work this year after B.A.ing at United. A staunch member of the Male Debating Society; likes curling and follows all sports. Roy is the conscientious type and a nice guy to know.

Patricia M. Woolley

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Pat is an ex-servicewoman, a Major in the C.W.A.C. A great asset to Social Work, her conscientiousness and capabilities have been carried into Welfare Work. Considering splitting her personality to distribute herself among lectures, clients at the Child Guidance Clinic, and her many friends.

Yvonne P. McRorie

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. A top-notch student, she has held many official positions in her University years. Social Work Rep. to the U.M.S.W.; a member of Alpha Phi Sorority; sung with the Choral Society for three years; an accomplished pianist. Doing placement at the Children's Aid Society.

Harold Zukerman

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Gay Lothario in our midst, whose smile melts the heart of any female. Another group worker who is firmly convinced that he has chosen the best course on earth. A certain blonde female professor has something to do with this opinion. Doing his placement at the Y.M.H.A.

Percy Abrams

(B.A.) (Hons.) 1950, U. of M. Winnipeg. An ex R.C.A.F. of three years standing, Percy's University years are studded with innumerable official positions. He has an engaging grin and has confessed to having "libido for seven men." This, obviously, accounts for his popularity among the feminine section of the class. Intends to seek a M.S.W.

Camera-Shy Grads

Max Cohen

(B.A.) United College, 1949. Winnipeg. This man with a past has a partiality for blondes, brunettes, red-heads of what have you? The more mentionable past includes a bout with the R.C.N.V.R. and various interesting jobs all over the country. Ambition is to receive M.S.W. in Group Work and launch upon a career offering solace with dollars and cents.

Betty Petryk

(B.A.) St. Mary's, 1948. Winnipeg. Can frequently be heard cursing her inhibitions. However, Bet is a welcome addition to the Student Colony at the Family Bureau and can usually be counted upon to endorse any party going. Intends to marry a gentleman of means and settle down to a pleasant life of domesticity.

Alstair D. Ross

Winnipeg. B.A., 1950, United. Tall, blonde and then some. In Q.O.H.C. reserve—looks wonderful in kilts. Applications for Mothers' allowance are increased 100% since Al began his placement there. A good loser, and hence an inveterate customer of the lost and found, his ambition in life is to lose fifty pounds.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE

Laurence F. Wilmot

B.A., B.D., M.C.

Warden of St. John's College

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE has established a tradition of Christian fellowship in learning. Here Arts and Science students intermingle with men who are studying to make the Ministry of the Church their life vocation, and daily opportunities for prayer and meditation enable all students to develop their spiritual resources while they apply their minds to their special areas of study.

Our smaller student body makes possible a high degree of personal association between members of the Faculty and the Student Body, and academic problems are dealt with as they arise. The values of such association are far in excess of anything which might be shown on examination papers and will be seen rather in the greater degree of adjustment to the whole of life.

To the graduates of 1951 I would say that it has been good to have had the association of this past year with you. I shall watch with interest your advance in the profession of your choice and feel confident that the spirit of fellowship in learning which has been exemplified here will be an inspiration to you as you set out to make your contribution to the life of tomorrow.

ST. PAUL'S COLLEGE

J. P. Monaghan, S.J.

Rector, St. Paul's College

THE PARCHMENT you hold in your hands and to which is affixed the seal of your University, symbolizes more than an academic rank. It is a sign of advanced training in the ways of righteous life and living. Not merely scholarship but especially character gives the folded document its worth.

It may not have seemed to you that your education carried you along the way of formation in character. You will, however, recall that insistence was made on the use of elements in education which develop the will, application to work, coordination of efforts towards a purpose, initiative, energy and perseverance in solving difficulties, acceptance of responsibilities and the faithful discharge of these. The discipline gained therefrom and the added checks and controls of authority provided a unifying, cohesive force.

You now look out on the horizon of the little world that welcomes you. As men of character, you will place that stamp on all you do. Be true to ideals formed! Be men, not for yourselves only but for others, for God, for country and the service of your fellowmen! Have the courage of your convictions! Love responsibilities for they develop in you a triple respect, for God, for others and for yourself. The acceptance of responsibility gives grandeur and dignity to character.

R É S U M É

The year 1950-1951 will go down in history as one the students will long remember for the outstanding achievements and the fine school spirit prompted. Freshman Week initiated the newcomers and revived the Seniors to the hum of University life.

In athletics, St. Paul's, traditionally consistent leaders again led the field in inter-faculty sports. Despite the comparatively small enrollment, bowling, curling and volleyball were revived and the teams in these sports acquitted themselves well. Our football, basketball, hockey and rifle teams were again indicative of the College's high standing in University athletics. We won the Stunt Trophy in its first year of annual competition and this trophy is now on display in our Common Room.

The College again conducted the most instructive and successful open forum on the University campus and displayed again the same high standards in inter-faculty debating that have made St. Paul's a respected team in that field of endeavour. Although the Drama group staged no major production this year, the skit submitted to Varsity Varieties was an excellent one.

Tea-dances, formals, and student-faculty parties all were a tremendous success. The student-faculty party was a new idea introduced by this year's council. The Grad's Farewell was again the highlight of the social year.

Finally our sincerest thanks to Father Monaghan, our Rector, to Father Lahey, our Dean of Studies, to Father McWalters, our Bursar, and to the Council for their advice and generous assistance in all student undertakings.

FINE ARTS

William Ashby McCloy

Dean of Fine Arts

FOR many generations Universities and Colleges throughout the world have given increasing emphasis to the "practical", to vocational training, the ways and means of earning a living. An inevitable consequence of this emphasis has been a certain amount of intellectual and emotional sterility, an inability to understand and appreciate the meanings and values of the living that was thusly earned. I should never advocate the revival of the old classical curricula, as a few schools have done, as an antidote for this situation for this is an escape in a sense to solutions of the past that will not fit our current needs. It is encouraging, however, to note that so many educational institutions, such as the University of Manitoba has done in 1950, are now offering their students the opportunity to study the Arts, which are by definition not practical in emphasis but which can in their understanding contribute so much to the sense of fullness of experience, to a feeling of significance of living.

UNITED COLLEGE

TO THE GRADS

PAUL W. HUNTER

W. C. Graham

Principal, United College

I APPRECIATE this opportunity to bid you

Godspeed as you pass from active membership in our College community into the greater body to those who do honor to it in useful, and in many cases distinguished, careers in the wider sphere outside its bounds.

Here we have not sought to train you for any particular vocation but only to mature your mind, broaden your vision, and deepen your understanding of the challenge with which life confronts you.

It has been said that one of the greatest needs of our times is to multiply the number of persons who are capable of "weaving the problems and materials of the modern world into a recognizable pattern by which individuals may take their bearings for a full and responsible life". Progress in technics, for which our age will be justly famed, can only be consolidated for human advantage when there is achieved an ordering of life which is oriented on those values which have withstood the tests of time and change.

To help bring that about is the most urgent and the most eminently practical task before the world in the period in which your adult life will be lived. My prayer for you, one and all, no matter how you may make your living, is that you may grow in the capacity to see life as a whole and in the ability to humanize the values in whatever particular social context you may be called upon to live and work.

Towards an Even Greater Canada

New power developments by Canada's electric utilities, using G-E equipment, will provide millions of additional horsepower.

Mine hoist driven by two motors totalling 4500 hp. Electric motors increase the output and earning capacity of workers.

Many diesel-electric locomotives, using G-E electrical equipment, are proving their efficiency and economy on Canadian railroads.

GENERAL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

is helping to shape our country's Future . . .

The ever-growing use of electric power in Canada is a primary reason for the rapid expansion of our industries . . . largely responsible for the high individual output of our workers.

Canadian General Electric has for fifty-eight years built much of the equipment that makes possible this "electrical way of living."

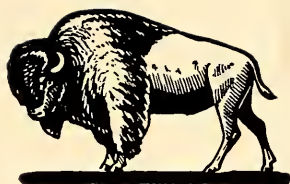

Modern, electric work-saving G-E appliances ease the housewife's tasks, in the kitchen, laundry, all through the house.

The Alpha Omega Society of the University of Manitoba was organized in the latter part of the 1945-46 session, and works hand in hand with the Alpha Omega of the University of Saskatchewan, and the University of British Columbia. It forms the nucleus for all students at the University who are interested in the studying and fostering of Ukrainian culture. Aiming to promote a better understanding of the various racial groups on the campus, and closer co-operation between them, Alpha Omega plans its program of activities with the major emphasis on adjustment of the Ukrainian culture to the Canadian way of life.

CANADIAN OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

CONTINGENT OFFICERS

Seated: Captain W. Kristjanson, Lt.-Col. J. B. Rollitt, C.O., Major G. D. Mitchell.
 Standing: Major R. G. Glover, 2 i-c and Major J. B. Nash.

1950-51 in Review

The 1950-51 session has been a busy one for members of the University of Manitoba Contingent, C.O.T.C. The tense international situation has given new emphasis and direction to our training and has highlighted its importance in the scheme of national defence and national preparedness.

Among the innovations introduced this year was a tactical exercise on a battalion level carried out at Birds Hill and revisions in the Theoretical Phases.

There were also important changes in personnel. In September, 1950, Major R. A. Rodgers, who had served as Resident Staff Officer since 1948, was nominated to attend the Gunnery Staff Course in the United Kingdom. He was succeeded by Major G. D. Mitchell, M.C., who is a graduate of Royal Military College and McGill University. During the war Major Mitchell served with the R.C.H.A. in the United Kingdom and Italy. He was attached to the P.P.C.L.I. as a Naval Bombardment Officer during the landings in Sicily.

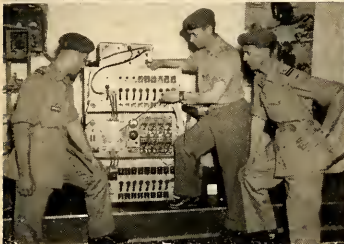

On November 8th, 1950, Lt. Col. G. P. R. Tallin, Commanding Officer since 1945, was retired from the Canadian Army and handed over his command to Lt. Col. J. B. Rollitt. Colonel Rollitt qualified for his commission in the McGill C.O.T.C. and was commissioned in the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars in 1929. In 1931, on the re-organization of the 6th Duke of Connaught's Royal Canadian Hussars, he was promoted to Captain, second-in-command "C" Squadron. He went overseas as a Lieutenant in the Canadian Intelligence Corps in 1942 and served with the First Canadian Division and Headquarters First Canadian Corps. At the end of the war he was Lieutenant-Colonel in charge of Supervision and Plans for the Repatriation Rehabilitation Training Program

On the occasion of Col. Tallin's retirement, a hand-over ceremony was held in the Officers' Mess at Fort Osborne Barracks. The guests included: Lt. Col., The Honorable R. F. McWilliams, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, the first Commanding Officer of the Contingent; the President of the University, Dr. A. H. S. Gillson; Brigadier R. E. A. Morton, D.S.O., LL.D., General Officer Commanding, Prairie Command; Lt.-Col. W. F. Riddell, Commanding Officer from 1938 to 1941; Lt.-Col. R. O. MacFarlane, Deputy Minister of Education, and a Contingent Officer from 1946 to 1950. On behalf of all the Contingent, the Adjutant, Capt. W. Kristjanson, presented a silver service tray to Col. Tallin. The Lieutenant-Governor presented military certificates to the qualified Officer Cadets who are listed on the opposite page.

Since the inception of the new C.O.T.C. programme in 1946, the Contingent has qualified 61 Captains and 96 Lieutenants. In 1950, the Contingent sent 166 Officer Cadets to Corps Schools across Canada. Five more Officer Cadets have joined the Active Force and four have joined the new Special Force.

The Second Tri-Service Cadet Ball was held at H.M.C.S. "Chippawa" in November, 1950. Our fellow servicemen of the U.N.T.D. deserve credit for the success of this Ball which has become an annual social event.

UNIVERSITY NAVAL TRAINING DIVISION

Lieut.-Cmdr. L. S. Bennett

OUR forefathers, in developing this country, planted deep the roots of their convictions. Personal liberty, freedom of thought and free enterprise have been jealously guarded throughout the years.

The success of our Democratic institutions is dependent upon an intelligent, informed citizenry, capable of meeting the responsibilities of leadership with aggressiveness and realistic vision. Such men may be found in all walks of life, but one of the most fruitful sources should be the products of our Universities.

The services, as do other institutions, require the abilities of the best, both politically and technically, and turn to undergraduates for possible officer material. An eventual goal is presented of either a career in the Services, or a commissioned rank in the Reserves while pursuing a civilian career.

The University Naval Training Division offers to potential Naval Officers sixty hours of training during the academic year, which is represented by one evening of each week between the months of October and March. During two summers, twelve to sixteen weeks of required training is taken in Naval establishments and in ships at the Coast. The majority of students, however, elect to take advantage of extending their training to the full five months which is offered at attractive rates of pay. As Cadets graduate from University, having satisfactorily completed their Naval training program, they are advanced to commissioned rank.

In the past, Canadian youth has made for itself a memorable record in the Naval Service. By such a program as is extended through Cadet training, Canada expects to have a nucleus of trained personnel prepared to offer leadership to the community as a citizen or, should the necessity arise, to the people of Canada as an officer.

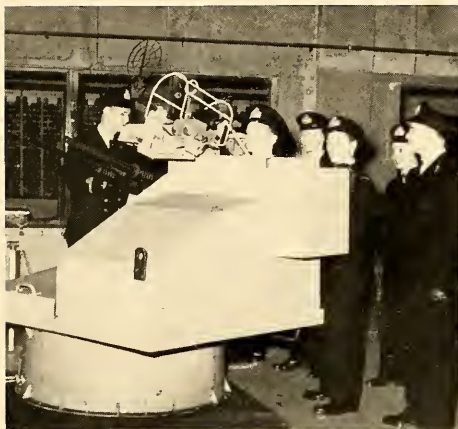

"The function of force is to give moral ideas time to take root".

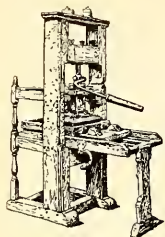

Admiral Mahon, U.S.N

The upper scene will be re-enacted frequently throughout the summer months by Royal Canadian Navy (Reserve) Cadets from Universities across Canada during their period of training in the Pacific Command. Fifty Cadets are aboard the two training frigates at all times, carrying out the normal chores and duties of the sailor, and under the guidance of competent instructors of the Sea Training Staff.

Other scenes were enacted at H.M.C.S. Chippawa this winter during training.

Leadership

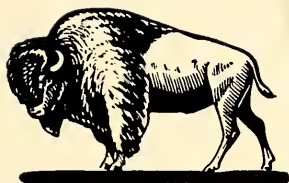

Leadership, learning and letters enjoy an affinity exemplified and personalized in Benjamin Franklin, brilliant statesman, scholar and printer . . . patron saint of the craft.

With prodigious vigor he lent his brilliant mind to many things, not the least of which was the planning and producing of printing for his generation.

Today, following the pattern of the old masters, printing still plays an important role in leadership and learning—and Advocate Printers is proud of its contribution to the careful planning and high-speed production of topflight quality printing — 1951 edition.

THE German Club is sponsored by the Department of German. It is open to all students interested in countries where German is spoken. In the activities of the club, great stress is placed on German literature, and particularly on modern German writers. But other aspects of German life and "Kultur", e.g., the spirit of Christmas in Germany and Austria and the way it is celebrated there, or German music, art, and architecture, also play a prominent part.

One leading aim of the club is to give students the opportunity to hear good spoken German, both in informal talks and conversation; and even more important, to encourage them to speak German themselves. An essential feature of every meeting is the singing of German songs.

"Friends of German studies" at our University, and other Winnipeg citizens of German descent or interests, are regularly invited to the meetings. Several meetings were held this session under ideal conditions in a private home at the kind invitation of Mrs. Hartmann. A new departure this year was a joint meeting of the German and English Clubs, to hear a most interesting talk by Mrs. Kaufmann on her uncle Franz Kafka.

AS THE constitution of the club states, the purpose of the Canterbury Club at the University of Manitoba is "to promote the fellowship of Anglican students . . . that they may worship together and grow in the faith."

Members participate in discussion groups, devotional periods, and social events throughout the academic year. This year the club held its first annual banquet. But the primary activity of the club is the service of holy communion that is held once each month. These services are followed by breakfasts at which local clergymen are the guest speakers.

A Canterbury Club appeared on the Manitoba campus for the first time three years ago. Its steady progress since that time has resulted in the dynamic organization which it is today.

THE Geology Club was first established in 1910 by a group of Geology Professors and graduate students who met to discuss professional problems. Early in its career the club became incorporated into a larger professional organization, the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, and ceased to function on the campus. Some years later it returned to the University as an undergraduate organization affiliated with the C.I.M.M.

The aim of the Geology Club is to keep students of geology in contact with the professional world. To this end, prominent geologists lecture to the students. Senior students also contribute talks, and instructional films are shown. The Geology staff at the University and local geologists contribute valuable time and experience in the activities.

The executive body of the club is: Boyd Hamilton, (Pres.); Bob McPherson, (Vice-Pres.); Roy Butler (Secretary); and Dave Anderson, (Treas.). Dr. G. M. Brownell is Hon. Pres.

IF ONE word may be said to characterize recent history, it is surely "insecurity". The modern man feels insecure for his safety, his self-confidence and in many cases even in his ideals and moral standards. But to give up hope is unthinkable to the young men and women of the present. It is they who must struggle to maintain moral standards in a materialistic world. And they will be successful so long as they recognize the distinction between an ideal and an expedient.

While there are political clubs in our universities there will be discussion of current problems. The one hope against cynicism is that such organizations will neither die from within nor be suppressed from without.

Grads!

Support Your Alumni Through The Years

J. A. McMURPHY Exec. Secretary

What Your Alumni Association Does!

1. Affords an excellent opportunity for University graduates to fraternize and work for objectives of interest to all.
2. Operates the Alumni Fund to finance special projects and needs within the University.
3. Keeps the official records of all graduates after they leave University.
4. Maintains a permanent secretariat and there are active branches in the larger centers where graduates are located.
5. Publishes the quarterly University Bulletin and Alumni Journal for all grads.
6. Operates a Grads Basketball team in conjunction with the Physical Education Department. It is desired that the Alumni help in some way with all University departments.
7. Sponsors social events such as the annual bonspiel, golf tournament and theatre nights.

The nature of the Association is such that it can make and is making a definite contribution to the well-being of the University. Support of the Association's projects is the keystone of its strength and of its success.

*Cost to you - - $1.00 per year plus a voluntary do-

The delight of the re-birth of rational thought in building is undoubtedly the reason why logic is commonly considered the new basis for architecture.

Seidler.

LeCorbusier: the new stability.

Niemeyer: honest skeleton structure.

Appreciation . . .

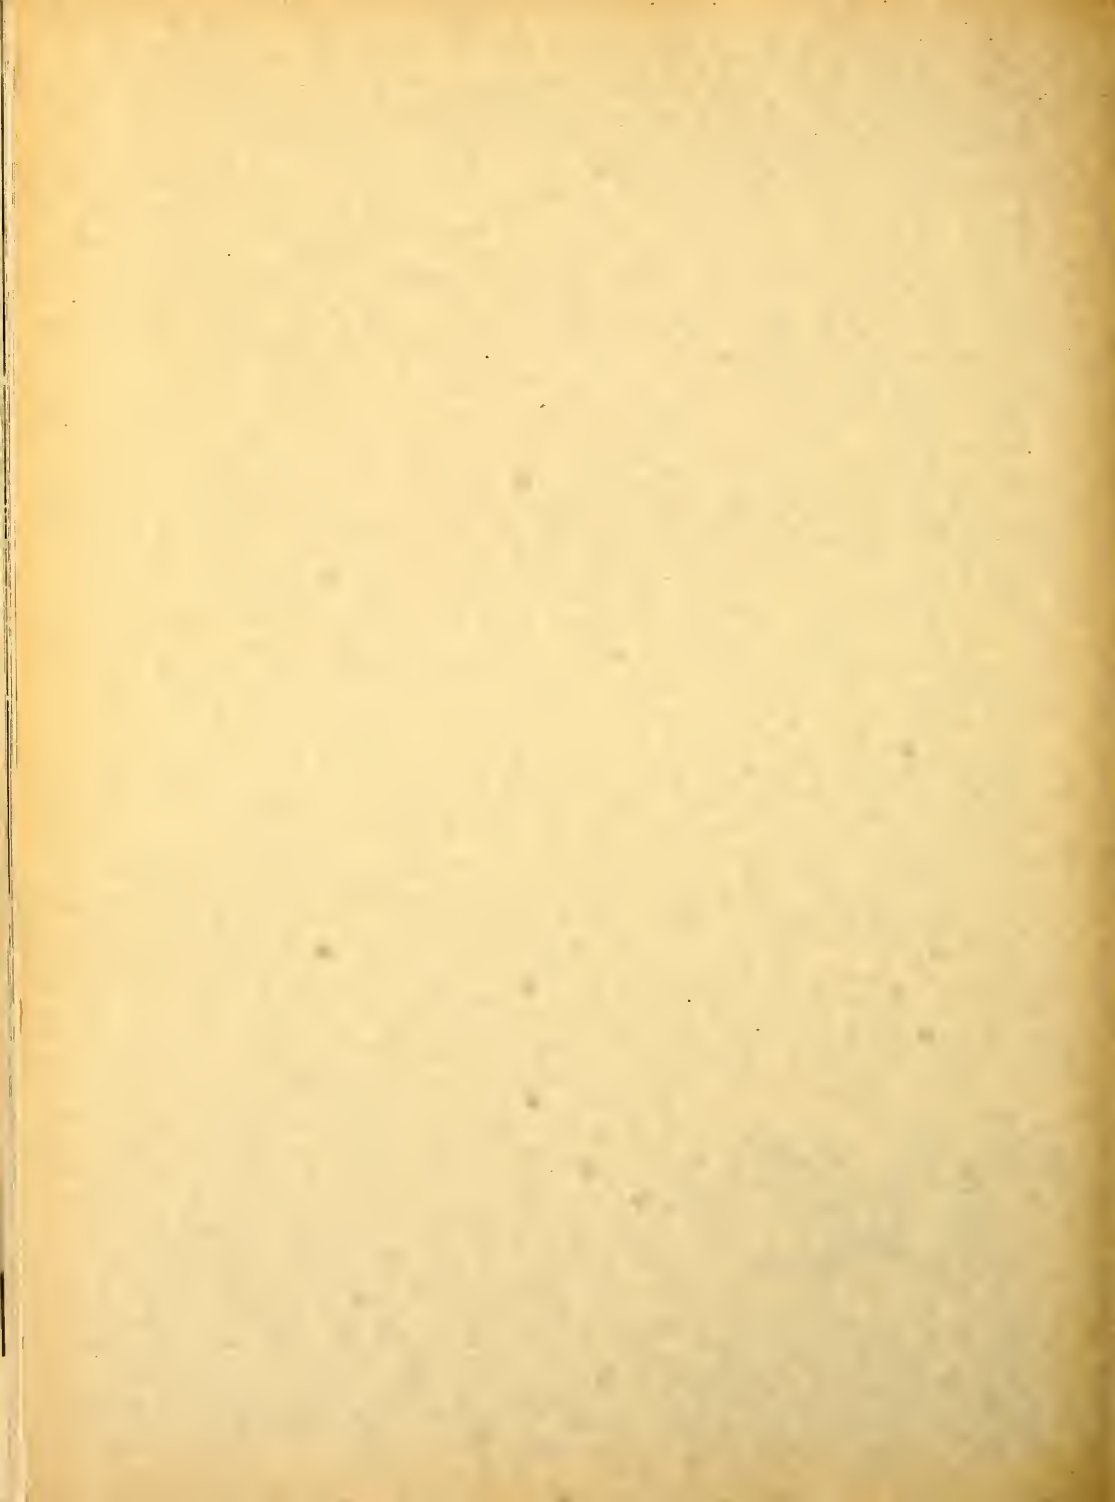

At this point you will have formed an opinion of the 1951 Brown and Gold. Some will like it, others won't. Our objective throughout has been to present the student with a record of the year's activities at the U. of M. for permanent reference. This record has a particular appeal to the graduate who is featured in the main section of the book. Possibly future editors should place more emphasis on undergraduate activities thus increasing circulation and appeal throughout the whole of the University.

To those students that helped in the publication of this year's book we give thanks. To the printers, engravers, photographers we are indebted. Although in this outward appreciation space does not allow listing names of those students who contributed, success of the book largely depended upon our small and capable staff for giving the most in cooperation and assistance.
